RESEARCH, RESEARCH, RESEARCH

Allow a minimum of 6-9 months to collect information to organize the race.

- Check city/surrounding area to see what other major events are taking place.
- Check other race sites to see what races are taking place in the area.
- Find a race company to certify your course as well as to handle timing & coning of event.
- BE UNIQUE!

STOP, COLLABORATE, AND LISTEN!

- Location
- Distance
- Date
- Permits
- Certification
- Marketing

SELECTING YOUR RACE LOCATION

SURROUNDING BUSINESSES

- Inform businesses about your possible race location.
 - Value their feedback and insight.
- How will your race location affect businesses?
 - Hours of Operation?
 - Parking?
 - Traffic?

PARKING

- Where will runners, spectators, & vendors park?
 - Parking lots, fields, roads?

RACE CERTIFICATION

- Should I certify my race course?

SAFETY

- Road Conditions (i.e. potholes, narrow roads, etc.)
- Weather Conditions

TRAFFIC

- Review traffic patterns & peak times to determine the best time to schedule the race.
- Ask Police and Streets departments for input on how the race may affect traffic:
 - Street Closures/Barricades
 - Staffing Needs from their departments

CHOOSING YOUR RACE LENGTH

Determine the following:

- Competitive and/or Recreational?
- Location?
- Target Market?

Race Options:

- Fun Runs
- 5Ks
- 10Ks
- Mud Runs
- Pub Crawls
- Half-Marathons
- Marathons
- Biathlons
- Triathlons

SELECTING YOUR RACE DATE

- Select a few possible dates and focus on minimizing conflict.
 - Availability
 - Other City-Related Events
 - Other Surrounding Events
 - Other Race Events

PERMITS

- Before selecting your race date and location, notify your police and streets departments about your plan to host a race to ensure that everyone is on board with the run taking place prior to doing any additional legwork.
- Ask how to go about requesting a permit for the race.
 - Being that you are more than likely running your race within your city limits, you should have no trouble securing a permit, but this is to provide a heads up of your plans as it may require additional help from your police and/or streets departments.

USATF CERTIFICATION

- Produce road race courses of accurately measured distances.
- For any road running performance to be accepted as a record or be nationally ranked, it must be run on a USATF-certified course.
 - Most runners like to compare performances run on different courses, and such comparisons are difficult if course distances are not reliable.
 - No one can truly establish a personal best if the course distance is not accurate.

HOW DO I GET MY COURSE CERTIFIED?

- Hire a professional
- Measure the course yourself
 - Will require:
 - Contacting the USATF road course certifier for your state and/or
 - Follow the steps within the course measurement procedures manual -
<http://www.usatf.org/Products-/Services/Course-Certifications/USATF-Certified-Courses/Procedures-Manual.aspx>

NOTIFY PROPER AUTHORITIES

- Notify fire, police, and streets departments again after your course has been approved/certified.

THE 5 P'S OF RACE MARKETING

1. People
2. Product
3. Place
4. Price
5. Promotion

PEOPLE

- What type of run will gain the largest interest within your community?
- How can you motivate people in your community to participate in your run?
- Can you create a friendly competition amongst your local elementary schools, middle schools, or even high schools?
- Will you allow strollers or pets on leashes?

TARGET MARKET

Who is your Target Market?

- The Community
- Local School District
- Parks & Rec Members/Participants
- Race Clubs/Groups

PRODUCT

- Your race is your product.
- What sets your race apart from the other races?
 - Everyone offers 5Ks...why should we participate in yours?
- What will help sell your product (your race)?
 - Race name?
 - Type of race?
 - Race details/activities?
 - Entry fee?
 - Most bang for their buck (race shirt, other race apparel, food, drinks)?
 - Does the money generated go to a charity, the city, or your local parks & recreation department?

PICKING YOUR RACE NAME

- Be unique.
- Be creative.
- Is it a themed run/associated with a holiday event?
- Is it a charity run?

PLACE

- Find your target market.
 - Physical setting – recreation center, gyms, fitness centers, schools, running stores, businesses, etc.
 - Online
 - Other race promotions

PRICE

- Know your target market.
- Research to see what other nearby races are charging.
- What does the price include?
 - People will be willing to pay more if they believe they are receiving more.

PROMOTION

- Where can you reach them?
 - Create a race website.
 - Offer online registration.
 - Promote via social media.
 - Send e-mail blasts to your database.
 - Display race flyers and brochures through your facilities and/or local businesses.
 - Advertise through other race sites, radio ads, social media, etc.
 - Use competition as a partnership for both races.
